

BISBEE DAILY REVIEW

Published Every Day Except Monday
W. B. KELLY, Editor and Manager
F. V. FINNEY, Associate

THE Prospector is still booming its court report. The REVIEW isn't saying a word, just going along quietly and publishing about twice as much matter as the county seat paper.

THE Prospector may be on the inside of the workings of the district attorney's office. In fact we believe that fact has been fully demonstrated. The REVIEW had it from one who knows that it was an outrage to keep witnesses in Tombstone two days before the grand jury convened, and he wasn't a Bisbeeite either.

THE search for Henry J. Fleischman, the absconding cashier of the Farmers and Merchants bank, has thus far been unsuccessful. The only clue discovered by the police officials after running down every rumor that came to their ears is the fact that Fleischman was seen at the Arcade depot of the Southern Pacific company between 8 and 9 o'clock last Saturday morning.

HON. M. A. SMITH, our delegate to congress, has secured appointment on several important committees, where he will be able to do good work for Arizona. He is a member of the mines and mining committee, committee on territories and committee on Indian affairs. As a member of the committee on territories he will have the pleasure of voting for a favorable report on the statehood bill.

THE TIME IS OPPORTUNE.

Several months ago a mass meeting was held in Jack's opera house, called for the purpose of discussing the question of incorporation of this town. At that meeting the best citizens of the town were present and the hall was crowded. The question was freely discussed, both pro and con, and after a vote had been taken, it was decided, by a small majority, that a committee be appointed to circulate a petition to be presented to the Board of Supervisors, praying for the incorporation and the appointment of the first city council.

The committee appointed to circulate the petition and fix the boundary lines, were I. W. Wallace, J. B. Scott, J. B. Angus, G. W. Wilcox and H. C. Stillman.

The object of the meeting held in June was to get an expression of the taxpayers on the subject, and from the furor it created, for the time being, was a live question.

It was not the desire of those of our citizens who favored the incorporation of the town to try and force the issue down the throats of our citizens who were opposed to the movement. The question was agitated and discussed on the broad plane of good to the town, and, by means of incorporation, the more rapid advancement of our rapidly growing city.

The opposition to the movement, at that time, was very active, and the committee not desiring to open a bitter strife over a question that meant so much for the future of the town, allowed the matter to rest and endeavored to acquiesce the people with the benefits and advantages of an incorporated form of government in the town of Bisbee.

Since that time, men of prominence in Bisbee, who were violently opposed to the incorporation movement, have more fully investigated the objects and advantages of incorporation and now are enthusiastic supporters of the proposition. Bisbee is rapidly assuming its rightful place among the leading cities of Arizona, and is the only town in importance in the territory that is not governed and regulated by a city government. Would other places smaller than Bisbee, for instance Prescott and Jerome, cling to an incorporated form of government, if the advantages were not daily apparent?

In view of the many favorable expressions on the street and in the offices, the time for the movement of the committee is opportune.

Governor Says "Damn It."

Late Friday night when Governor Murphy returned to his private car, after being dined and entertained by some of the officials of the Copper Queen at the residence of Superintendent Douglas, he found that the colored porter had gone up town to take in the sights of the busy mining camp on pay day night and forgot to leave the car door open so that his excellency could get in when he and his party returned. The governor and party waited out in the cold, with the snow coming down and the wind blowing a regular Texas norther, while a messenger was sent to find the wandering porter. After half an hour's wait, and no sign of the colored gentleman, who, by the way, had become deeply interested in a crap game up town and was winning big stacks of money, the governor became a trifle exasperated. He actually said "damn it" and "damn that porter" several times, and finally kicked in the door and entered his private car and retired. The porter, after getting out of the game with four bits to the good, suddenly remembered that the governor had no keys and made for the depot in a big hurry. The governor gave Mister "Johnnie" a sitting next morning, and he forever promises hereafter to be good and let the fascinating game of seven or eleven alone.

Wait, Coming Sure!

A good many people have been too poor to marry, and how any one can be too rich to marry may seem an impossibility, but how such conditions are possible, can be seen in the picture comedy, "Too Rich To Marry," coming to the Opera House soon.

RICHARD WAGNER CONCERT COMPANY OPERA HOUSE SATURDAY EVE DEC. 14TH

will appear in a Benefit Performance to aid of the building fund for the Bisbee Woman's Club of Bisbee. This company is acknowledged to be one of the finest and best concert companies now on a tour through the south-west. The company consists of the following: Miss Gretchen Bernhardt, who is acknowledged to be one of California's most prominent contralto singers. Miss Bernhardt possesses a voice of unusual range, quality and richness of tone and can only be classed with such singers as the noted Emma Nevada.

Miss Marie Richardson is beyond all doubt the most pleasing reader that ever graduated from the famous Boston School of Expression. Her voice being clear and distinct and her gestures graceful. Her lecture on Woman's Rights and "Aux Italiens," is one of the features of the evening's entertainment. Miss Richardson's charming manner and excellent work never fails to win her audience.

Mr. Julius A. Haug is without doubt one of America's greatest violin solos. Mr. Haug is a graduate from both the Vienna, Austria, and Leipzig conservatory of music of Paris. He is a musician of rare ability and is considered one of America's greatest violinists for his solo work.

Although quite young, Mr. Haug was the first director of the Vienna Elite orchestra of Vienna, Austria. He has traveled extensively in Europe and has frequently played for royalty and was highly honored by gifts of their appreciation. While a violinist of rare ability, noted particularly for his technique and staccato étude by Mendelssohn will give his audience a great treat.

Mr. Geo. L. Miller, the famous Baltimore baritone singer, never fails to captivate his audience with his magnificent voice, which is noted for its rich silvery tone, excellent range and quality and the manner in which he handles it. Mr. Miller will appear twice during the program and his solos will be highly appreciated.

The concert closes with a musical sketch of home life entitled "Janglelings." Admission $1.00 and $1.50.

Good baking powder is cheaper than "cheap" baking powder, because it doesn't make doctor's bills.

"Cheap" baking powder generally contains alum—bad for the stomach.
